

The National Archives week falls on 2nd November, 2015 to the 5th. The theme for this event is “National Archives and Medical Records”

There was a competition among 25 District Hospitals in the country to select the most the efficient medical record facility in hospitals. The District Hospital Ampara was awarded the Gold Medal in this competition. An award ceremony was held at auditorium of National Archives Department on 02nd November 2015, inaugurated by Minister of Health, Nutrition and Indigenous Medicine, Hon. Dr. Rajitha Senaratne.