13. Places of Alcohol and Tobacco Sale

Smoking - Smokers are likely to be more vulnerable to COVID-19 as the act of smoking means that fingers (and possibly contaminated cigarettes) are in contact with lips which increases the possibility of transmission of virus from hand to mouth. Smokers may already have lung disease or reduced lung capacity which would greatly increase risk of serious illness.

Conditions that increase oxygen needs or reduce the ability of the body to use it properly will put patients at higher risk of serious lung conditions such as pneumonia.

Alcohol – Alcohol reduces the immunity of the body and make people more vulnerable for COVID infection. Additionally, alcohol increases the occurrence of road traffic accidents, domestic violence and other violence behaviors. These will demand more hospital facilities depriving the others who need urgent medical care in a pandemic situation.

Both alcohol and smoking often involve the sharing of glasses, eating utensils and mouth pieces which could facilitate the transmission of COVID-19 in communal and social settings.

Bars, taverns, pubs, nightclubs, casinos, betting centers should adhere to the government rules and regulations during the COVID and NON-COVID period.
